Diversity and Distributions

Volume 8, Issue 1, January 2002

Biodiversity Research

1 M. Sarà and S. Morand: Island incidence and mainland population density: mammals from Mediterranean islands

11 J. M. Parody and T. H. Parker: Biogeographic variation in nest placement: a case study with conservation implications

21 K. Kiviniemi and O. Eriksson: Size-related deterioration of semi-natural grassland fragments in Sweden

Biodiversity Viewpoints

31 A. M. Shapiro: The Californian urban butterfly fauna is dependent on alien plants

Biodiversity Letters

41 P.-M. Agapow and N. J. B. Isaac: MacroCAIC: revealing correlates of species richness by comparative analysis

Bibliodiversions

45 A biological assessment of the Wapoga River area of north-western Irian Jaya, Indonesia (reviewed by J. Jarvie)

46 Inselbergs: biotic diversity of isolated rock outcrops in tropical and temperate regions (reviewed by C. Sarthou)

47 Dâures — biodiversity of the Brandberg Massif, Namibia (reviewed by R. Cowling)

Volume 8, Issue 2, March 2002

Biodiversity Research

49 T. P. A. Feria and A. T. Peterson: Prediction of bird community composition based on point-occurrence data and inferential algorithms: a valuable tool in biodiversity assessments

57 A. C. Premoli, C. P. Souto, A. E. Rovere, T. R. Allnut and A. C. Newton: Patterns of isozyme variation as indicators of biogeographic history in Pilgerodendron uviferum (D. Don) Florín

67 T. W. Therriault, I. A. Grigorovich, M. E. Cristescu, H. A. M. Ketelaars, M. Viljanen, D. D. Heath and H. J. MacIsaac: Taxonomic resolution of the genus Bythotrephes Leydig using molecular markers and re-evaluation of its global distribution

85 W. Topp, J. Kulfan, P. Zach and F. Nicolini: Beetle assemblages on willow trees: do phenolic glycosides matter?

107 C. Muster: Substitution patterns in congeneric arachnid species in the northern Alps

Bibliodiversions

123 A field study of six Bornean treeshrew species (reviewed by Lee Choon Hui)

124 To travel hopefully is a better thing than to arrive (reviewed by Bryan Turner)

125 An idiosyncratic perspective on the Endangered Species Act (reviewed by David Simberloff)

126 Biodiversity versus biomonotony (reviewed by D. M. Richardson)

Volume 8, Issue 3, May 2002

Biodiversity Research

129 A. A. Awad, C. L. Griffiths and J. K. Turpie: Distribution of South African marine benthic invertebrates applied to the selection of priority conservation areas

147 H. M. de Klerk, T. M. Crowe, J. Fjeldså and N. D. Burgess: Biogeographical patterns of endemic terrestrial Afrotropical birds

163 R. M. Cowling and A. T. Lombard: Heterogeneity, speciation/extinction history and climate: explaining regional plant diversity in the Cape Floristic Region

181 J. M. Olesen, L. I. Eskildsen and S. Venkatasamy: Invasion of pollination networks on oceanic islands: importance of invader complexes and endemic super generalists

Volume 8, Issue 4, July 2002

Biodiversity Research

193 D. F. Sax: Native and naturalized plant diversity are positively correlated in scrub communities of California and Chile

211 G. Pérez-Ponce de León, L. García-Prieto and U. Razo-Mendivil: Species richness of helminth parasites in Mexican amphibians and reptiles

219 E. Welk, K. Schubert and M. H. Hoffmann: Present and potential distribution of invasive garlic mustard (Alliaria petiolata) in North America

235 A. G. Farji-Brener, J. C. Corley and J. Bettinelli: The effects of fire on ant communities in north-western Patagonia: the importance of habitat structure and regional context

Bibliodiversions

245 A practical look at the world's worst plant invaders (reviewed by Scott Henderson)

246 Biogeography: too big for a single volume? (reviewed by J. R. Stevens)

247 Geographic information systems for supporting and driving science (reviewed by Dean H. K. Fairbanks)

Volume 8, Issue 5, September 2002

Biodiversity Research

249 L. Heidinga and S. D. Wilson: The impact of an invading alien grass (Agropyron cristatum) on species turnover in native prairie

259 J. R. Verdú and E. Galante: Climatic stress, food availability and human activity as determinants of endemism patterns in the Mediterranean region: the case of dung beetles (Coleoptera, Scarabaeoidea) in the Iberian Peninsula

275 S. T. Jackson and R. K. Booth: The role of Late Holocene climate variability in the expansion of yellow birch in the western Great Lakes region

285 I. J. Renne, W. C. Barrow, Jr, L. A. Johnson Randall and W. C. Bridges, Jr: Generalized avian dispersal syndrome contributes to Chinese tallow tree (Sapium sebiferum, Euphorbiaceae) invasiveness

297 C. Kelley, J. Garson, A. Aggarwal and S. Sarkar: Place prioritization for biodiversity reserve network design: a comparison of the SITES and ResNet software packages for coverage and efficiency

Bibliodiversions

307 Invasive alien plants — case studies from Europe and North America (reviewed by David M. Richardson)

308 A thorough treatment of an underexploited tree (reviewed by K. Usha)

309 A walk through the woods of California (reviewed by Dov F. Sax)

Volume 8, Issue 6, November 2002

Biodiversity Research

311 M. L. McKinney: Influence of settlement time, human population, park shape and age, visitation and roads on the number of alien plant species in protected areas in the USA

319 T. Silva, L. M. Reino and R. Borralho: A model for range expansion of an introduced species: the common waxbill Estrilda astrild in Portugal

327 S. J. Coulson, I. D. Hodkinson, N. R. Webb, K. Mikkola, J. A. Harrison and D. E. Pedgley: Aerial colonization of high Arctic islands by invertebrates: the diamondback moth Plutella xylostella (Lepidoptera: Yponomeutidae) as a potential indicator species

335 P. Walker, S. R. Leather and M. J. Crawley: Differential rates of invasion in three related alien oak gall wasps (Cynipidae: Hymenoptera)

351 H. Laurie and J. A. Silander, Jr: Geometric constraints and spatial pattern of species richness: critique of range-based null models

365 J. E. Malo and J. Baonza: Are there predictable clines in plant–pollinator interactions along altitudinal gradients? The example of Cytisus scoparius (L.) Link in the Sierra de Guadarrama (Central Spain)
